

Powered by MEAN WELL” English website is officially launched

Date: 2018.08.31

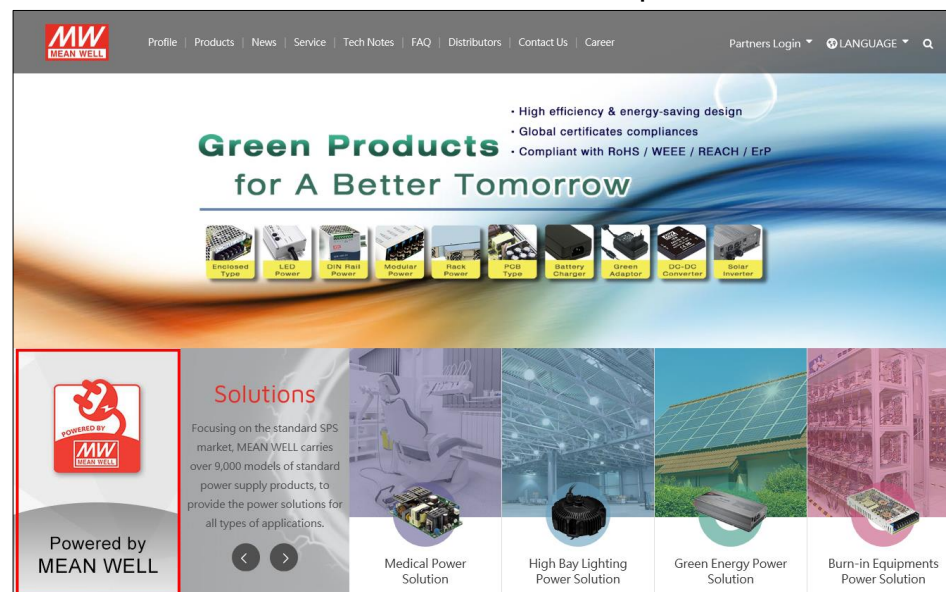

MEAN WELL, the leading brand of standard power supply, announces that the “Powered by MEAN WELL” English website has been officially launched. Based on our co-marketing program, we invite all premium clients who recognize our brand spirit and are willing to be our reliable power partners to join with us.

The “Powered by MEAN WELL” logo symbolizes “high reliability” that can give customers the confidence of knowing that their products are powered with highly reliable power supplies. Partners who join this program will gain exposure through our website, exhibitions, press, social media as well as marketing materials. We welcome you to visit the Powered by MEAN WELL website to see how our clients speak highly of MEAN WELL and promote their businesses.

Just a couple of months after launching this program, there were 18 partners specialize in the LED lighting field that joined us. We also set up 100 power partners as our target for 2020, covering various applications such as industrial control, medical, ICT, transportation, green energy and others.

Your support and encouragement are the biggest driving force to MEAN WELL. By this co-marketing strategy, we look forward to accomplishing mutual brand promotion and to achieving a win-win result with our partners.
